Codexis Grows Revenue 28% in Second Quarter

Redwood City, CA – August 5, 2010 – Codexis, Inc. (NASDAQ: CDXS), a clean technology company, today announced financial results for the second quarter ended June 30, 2010.

Financial Highlights

Revenue: For the second quarter of 2010, the company reported revenue of $24.5 million, an increase of 28% from $19.2 million in the second quarter of 2009. Product revenue of $8.5 million increased 102% over the same time period.

Operating Expenses: Research and development expenses in the second quarter of 2010 were $13.0 million compared to $12.1 million for the second quarter of 2009. The increase was primarily due to higher depreciation and stock-based compensation expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses in the second quarter of 2010 were $8.7 million compared to $6.2 million for the second quarter of 2009. The increase was primarily due to increased headcount, legal and accounting costs associated with preparing to become a public company and higher stock-based compensation expenses.

Net Income/(Loss): Net loss was ($3.9) million, or ($0.15) per share, based on 26.6 million weighted average common shares outstanding in the second quarter of 2010. The company ended the quarter with 34.2 million shares outstanding as a result of the conversion of preferred stock and the issuance of new shares of common stock in connection with the company's initial public offering.

Adjusted EBITDA: On a non-GAAP basis, Adjusted EBITDA increased from ($0.1) million in the second quarter of 2009 to $0.5 million in 2010. Adjusted EBITDA is calculated by adding depreciation, amortization, net interest expense, income taxes, stock-based compensation and preferred stock warrants fair market value adjustment to our net loss. A reconciliation of Adjusted EBITDA to net loss is presented below.

Cash: Cash, cash equivalents and marketable securities for the second quarter of 2010 increased to $100.3 million compared to $39.3 million at March 31, 2010 and $55.6 million at December 31, 2009. Codexis completed an initial public offering in April 2010, generating net proceeds of $72.5 million.

Outlook

For 2010, Codexis affirms its forecast for 2010 annual revenue of $94 million to $98 million, which would represent growth of 13% to 18% compared to 2009, and affirms its expectation that Adjusted EBITDA will be positive for full year 2010.

Recent Events

In June 2010, Merck and Codexis announced joint receipt of the Presidential Green Chemistry Challenge Award, given by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The award recognized development of a novel biocatalytic production method for sitagliptin, the active pharmaceutical ingredient in Merck's Januvia. The new process improved efficiency and significantly decreased waste products, and was the subject of a joint Merck-Codexis paper published June 17, 2010 in the leading peer-review journal Science. This was Codexis' second EPA Green Chemistry award. The first was received in 2006 for an improved process for a key building block of atorvastatin, the active ingredient in Lipitor from Pfizer.

On June 28, 2010, Peter Strumph joined Codexis as Senior Vice President, Commercial Operations, a new position. Mr. Strumph is responsible for Codexis pharmaceutical product management and manufacturing operations worldwide. He brings to Codexis two decades of experience in senior manufacturing and operations management in the biopharmaceutical industry.

"We are very pleased with the results of our second quarter, highlighted by strong financial performance and important milestones in both pharmaceuticals and bioindustrials," said Alan Shaw, Ph.D., President and Chief Executive Officer. "We continue to make excellent progress building a strong, sustainable clean technology company."

Reconciliation of GAAP to Non-GAAP Financial Information

Adjusted EBITDA (earnings before interest, tax, depreciation, amortization, stock-based compensation and warrant related costs) for the second quarter of 2010 was $0.5 million compared to a loss of $0.1 million in the second quarter of 2009. For the six months ended June 30, 2010, Adjusted EBITDA improved to $3.3 million from a loss of $3.5 million in the same period in 2009. The key driver of this improvement was a $3.6 million reduction in net loss.

We present Adjusted EBITDA because we believe it assists investors and analysts in comparing our performance across reporting periods on a consistent basis by excluding items that we do not believe are indicative of our core operating performance. In addition, we use Adjusted EBITDA as a factor in evaluating management's performance when determining incentive compensation and to evaluate the effectiveness of our business strategies.

A reconciliation of GAAP net income (loss) to Adjusted EBITDA is included in the table below.

Adjusted EBITDA	$ 527	$ (98)	$ 3,333	$(3,495)

Adjusted EBITDA has limitations as an analytical tool. Some of these limitations are:

- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect our cash expenditures, or future requirements, for capital expenditures or contractual commitments;
- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect changes in, or cash requirements for, our working capital needs;
- Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect the significant interest expense, or the cash requirements necessary to service interest or principal payments, on our debts;
- Although depreciation and amortization are non-cash charges, the assets being depreciated and amortized will often have to be replaced in the future, and Adjusted EBITDA does not reflect any cash requirements for such replacements; and
- Non-cash compensation is and will remain a key element of our overall long-term incentive compensation package, although we exclude it as an expense when evaluating our ongoing operating performance for a particular period.

Because of these limitations, Adjusted EBITDA should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for performance measures calculated in accordance with GAAP. We compensate for these limitations by relying primarily on our GAAP results and using Adjusted EBITDA only supplementally.
